Bakersfield College is offering late start classes in southwest Bakersfield to better serve the needs of the Southwest and Northwest Bakersfield Community. Offerings include many general education courses such as ANTH B1 – Physical Anthropology, ART B1 – Art Appreciation, COMM B1 – Public Speaking, HIST B17A – History of the United States, and many more. Classrooms are located on the second floor of the Fresno Pacific building and are equipped with PowerPoint capability and select rooms are available to hold up to 60 and 35 students.

On Friday, February 2, 2018 from 8AM to 12PM, Bakersfield College will host an express enrollment event to help students register for open late start classes. “This is an awesome opportunity for my peers who still need to enroll in courses for this spring, especially if they are living or working in the south and northwest area, or if they need that one night or weekend course to catch up,” said BCSGA President, Dezi Von Manos.

Vice President of Instruction, Nan Gomez-Heitzeberg also shared in the excitement by saying, “We want our students to know Bakersfield College is Bakersfield’s college. We want our students who live here to know that core classes are offered closer to home.” Steven Holmes, President of BC’s Academic Senate also said, “Serving students is the most important thing. Holding extra classes at this Southwest location will give our students more flexibility.”

Bakersfield College offers a rigorous and supportive learning environment that fosters students’ abilities to think critically, communicate effectively, and demonstrate competencies and skills in order to engage productively in their communities and the world, while simultaneously contributing to the intellectual, cultural, and economic vitality of the communities it serves.
