Online Courses Still Available at Bakersfield College
Calling all students – Don’t forget about online courses, sign up now!

Bakersfield College would like to remind students that online courses are still available for the 2018 fall semester! In order to alleviate congestion on campus, Bakersfield College encourages those with non-traditional work schedules and/or home responsibilities to take college courses and pursue their education through online classes, which provide an opportunity for students to complete all course requirements from their home or office.

To take an online course, students must:

- have a basic understanding of computer usage
- know how to access the Internet
- have internet access
- know how to send and receive e-mail
- ability to access internet and e-mail daily

With online courses, participants will have the chance to interact with the instructor and other students, regardless of location using a variety of technologies. For more information on online courses, including how to gain access, students services, and online faculty directory, visit https://www.bakersfieldcollege.edu/online/renegade-online.

There is also a Renegade Online Hub, a physical location on the Panorama campus for online students. Students are encouraged to visit the Hub if they’re having trouble with an online course or Canvas. The Renegade Online Hub is located near the Computer Commons in the Library, near Media Services. The Renegade Online Hub welcomes walk-ins and appointments. For more information please email hub@bakersfieldcollege.edu.

Bakersfield College offers a rigorous and supportive learning environment that fosters students’ abilities to think critically, communicate effectively, and demonstrate competencies and skills in order to engage productively in their communities and the world, while simultaneously contributing to the intellectual, cultural, and economic vitality of the communities it serves.
